BELONGS AMONG THE IMMORTALS

Calls Action in Crucial Periods Profound, in Keynote Speech.

ST. LOUIS June 14.—The Demofirst session today, heard the keynote of Americanism and peace, preparedness and prosperity sounded by former Governor Glynn of New York, as temporary chairman, and with a high onstration its approval of President Wilson's peaceful conduct of foreign affairs.

The convention which had gotten under way with such perfunctory demonstrations as mark every national gathering of the kind, soon stirred itself into roaring cheers as Chairman Glynn cited historic parallels to show that other presidents, including Republicans, had adjusted threatening foreign situations without resort to Will Introduce Candidates war.

war.
"The policy of the administration," he declared, "has been just as American as the American flag itself."
He went down the list of presidents recounting their action to avoid war,

the delegates caught the spirit of his argument and as he referred to each particular president some delegate would call: "What did he do?"

"He settled the trouble by nego-tiation," was the reply which Glynn invariably returned and the conven-tion would roar its approval. William J. Bryan, as a newspaper correspond-ent in the press stand, wept with emoent in the press stand, we be with candidate that as Glynn pictured the victories of peace, but he hughed with the crowd when a Texas delegate, interrupting Glynn, leaped to his chair and cried.

"And don't forget that policy also is satisfactory to William J. Bryan."

Predicts Re-election.

Aside from a 16-minute demonstra-tion when Chairman Glynn predicted. President Wilson's re-election, Glynn's speech was sprinkled with demonstra-tions which he found it difficult to stem so he could go on. It was plain that the telling points on the dele-gates were the recital of President Wilson's effort to keep the country at nearce.

"This policy," he said, "may not satisfy the firecater and the swash-buckler. But it does satisfy the mothers of the land at whose hearth and fireside no jingoistic war has placed an empty chair. It does satisfy the daughters of this land from whom bluster and brag have sent no loving bluster and brag have sent no loving brother to the dissolution of the grave. It does satisfy the fathers of this land and the sons of this land who will fight for our flag and die for our flag when reason primes the rifle; when honor draws the sword and when justice breathers a blessing on the standard they uphold."

The last of the words were drowned at in a rear of applause that swept as Colliscum.
"Hepeat it," cried the delegates.

All right, be quiet and I'll repeat responded Glynn, and he did, to applause and cheering.

Faced Crucial Problems,

No other president since the civil war, Glynn told the convention, had faced such crucial problems, none had displayed a grasp of statesmanship more profound.

Whether the course the country whether the course the country has pursued during this crucial period is to be continued, and whether the principles that have been asserted as our national policy shall be indorsed or withdrawn," Glynn told the con-

At the same time the extreme right flank of General Brusiloff's force is swinging out toward Kovel, another important railways junction controlling communication with Lemberg from the north. The Russians approaching Kovel from the southwest along the Royno-Kovel railway have reached the Stokod river twenty miles from Kovel. Southward of Kovel they have pushed a wedge westward to Torchin, in the direction of Vladimir-Volynski. This piercing of the Austrian line places the right flank of Prince Leopoid's army in a precarious situation. A particularly stubborn defense is being made by the enemy in the Kovel district advanced positions.

WASHINGTON, June 14 —With all government departments losed in observance of Flag day there were no developments here to day in the grave Mexican situation. Whatever is to be the outcome of order, officials here are certain hat the presence of American troops on Mexican soil is only one element, and perhaps a lesser one, among those contributing to unrest in Mexico. The real key to the situation, many of those in close touch with it believe, is the apparent collapse of the de facto government's effort to adjust the financial problem in default of substantial foreign aid.

Unestiness Growing.

Consular reports have indicated srowing uneasiness among the Mexican people owing to the money stringency.

It is evident that many officials believe the collapse of the de facto government is more to be expected than any overt act by that government against the United States. Out of such a collapse, however, it is feared there might come an ill-advised attempt to eject the American troops sent to pursue Villa and his bandits.

He had dropped a spark plug on the foor of the automobile, and while in the act of picking it up, with one hand on the steering wheel, the machine struck the hole and turned over.
